

NEWSROOM NOTES — There are at least four reasons why eggs should be cooked: first, cooking will coagulate the egg proteins and make them more digestible and more palatable; second, cooking will make the water-soluble proteins insoluble and make them stay longer in the alimentary canal; third, cooking will deactivate avidin, an egg protein, and destroy its anti-vitamin property; and fourth, cooking will kill disease-causing microorganisms that may be present.

Raw egg proteins, as such, are not as digestible as one may think, but become more so, after being well beaten.

If they are cooked over an even, simmering heat between 158 degrees and 212 degrees F, until completely set, they are by far easier to digest.

Water soluble proteins are strange substances. In contrast to material such as a metal which melts or liquefies at an elevated temperature, water soluble proteins become solidified on heating.

Furthermore, on solidification, they bring down a large amount of water. When you prepare custards by mixing one egg with a cupful of milk, you are making use of that solidification property of egg proteins. Once in the solid state, they will not change back to the liquid or soluble state unless digested.

Thus, by cooking, the egg proteins are converted into such a state that they will stay in our digestive system long enough to be completely digested and absorbed.

Avidin is a protein present in egg whites in minute quantities. It has a unique anti-vitamin property, and it deactivates biotin, a member of the vitamin B complex.

It has long been known that during coagulation, avidin will lose its anti-vitamin effect.

Salmonella infections are caused by a group of bacilli or rod-shaped germs. The famous typhoid fever is one type of them. There is a lesser known type called acute gastroenteritis. It is believed to be due to the salmonella bacteria that may be found in insufficiently cooked eggs or egg products. From four to forty-eight hours after eating the improperly prepared food, acute gastrointestinal trouble begins to appear, and the victim may suffer from fever, nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

Clark Calls for Military Action Against China

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Retired Army Gen. Mark Clark, who commanded American forces in two wars, says he thinks military action should be taken against Red China.

"The time to act against China is now, because if they develop their nuclear capabilities, we'll have more headaches," Clark said here Monday night.

He spoke at the awards banquet of the 68th national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The convention, with some 35,000 in attendance, is the largest ever held in New Orleans and the city is popping from the seams with the visitors.

Reinforcements Sent To Help Stop Rebels

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The federal government sent troop reinforcements today to try to stem the advance of Biafran rebels who Monday captured the town of Ore only 100 miles from Lagos, reliable sources reported.

The Nigerian troops, wearing battle camouflage, left Lagos in two trucks and three buses.

Government spokesmen said federal forces fighting in Biafra have taken Eha-Amufu, the last railroad town north of Enugu, and have reached a point 24 miles from that rebel capital.

The federal forces were said to have shot down a Biafran helicopter, killing a Biafran engineer and the white pilot.

Composite Drawing of Killer

Above is a composite drawing of the man who Saturday shot and killed 47-year-old Ralph Full, LaMoille, after an argument over bright headlights. The description for the drawing was furnished by Joseph Todd, 41, of rural Ohio, who was with Full when the shooting occurred. Todd was wounded. Todd was taken to Rockford Monday by Chief Deputy Sheriff John Quest where a police artist drew the sketch. The man was last seen driving a tan colored automobile with Illinois license plates.

Warplanes Hit Hanoi Again Today

SAIGON (UPI)—The United States lost six jets bombing Hanoi and its suburbs Monday including two Navy jets that were shot down by Red China, American spokesmen said today. Communist reports said U.S. bombers returned today to pound the North Vietnamese capital again.

U.S. Air Force giant B52 Stratofortresses today struck for the 13th time in 12 days in an effort to smash elements of three North Vietnamese divisions poised for invasion on the South Vietnamese border.

See Approval Of Defense Spending Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The largest appropriation in U.S. history, a $70.2 billion defense spending bill swollen by the war in Vietnam, appears headed for passage without significant alteration.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he was confident the measure would pass unchanged, despite threats by critics of the Vietnam war to seek appropriation cuts in an effort to influence the policy of the administration.

Only a handful of senators have been on hand during two days of debate on the measure, and no such effort has been posted.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said he hoped the measure he is managing would pass the Senate by tonight.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., had talked of a budget-trimming move aimed at President Johnson's Vietnam policy. But Clark said he will not propose one.

The bill, $14 billion below the level the President proposed, includes more than $20 billion linked to the Vietnam war.

The debate centered Monday on missile defense and on accounting systems.

In a Peking Radio broadcast, Communist China claimed the Hanoi raiding, the fatal intrusion by two Navy jets and the B52 raids formed American escalation of the Vietnam war. It called it all a Soviet-American plot against Red China.

U.S. air losses Monday fell short of the Dec. 2 record of eight jets downed. But four Navy planes—three A6 Intruders and an F4 Phantom—and two Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs were shot down after pilots met perhaps the toughest air defense of the war over Hanoi Monday.

Heavy Missile Defense
One U.S. pilot said so many surface to air missiles were fired at him that he quit counting them.

The losses brought to 653 the number of American warplanes shot down in action against Communist North Vietnam. Two of the 10 crewmen aboard the six lost planes were rescued. The others were listed as missing. The East German and Soviet news agencies said more U.S. planes returned today.

Carmichael Aide Nabbed In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Black Power leader George Ware, a top aide to Stokely Carmichael, was arrested today on a Tennessee sedition charge and taken to the Metropolitan jail.

Ware, who appeared here as a surprise instructor Monday at the city's controversial Liberation School for Negro youngsters, was taken into custody at the home of the Rev. James Woodruff.

The Rev. Mr. Woodruff, a Negro Episcopal priest who has been active in connection with the school and at whose home Ware was a houseguest, said two Metropolitan policemen "knocked on the door and asked to see George."

"I asked them what they wanted," he said, "and they said, 'We want to arrest him.' They handed him the warrant and he went quietly, without any comment at all."

The Rev. Mr. Woodruff is rector of St. Anselm's Chapel, a student center in Nashville's Negro college area, where the Liberation School began this summer as an antipoverty project.

North Viet Planned To Divide South

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. John P. McConnell testified today that air attacks against North Vietnam had foiled an enemy plan to "cut South Vietnam in half" and win the war.

McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, told a Senate defense subcommittee that lack of U.S. air power in Vietnam would have required "perhaps more than 800,000 additional United States troops at a cost of $75 billion over what we have already spent."

The Air Force chief agreed with earlier testimony from other career military leaders that a recent marked increase in bombing major targets in North Vietnam had damaged severely Hanoi's ability to continue the war.

"The air war in the North is the offensive half of our strategy, with the initiative controlled by the United States, and not the enemy," McConnell told senators. "Airpower, in affording this advantage exerts the influence that is most likely to force the enemy to reconsider his avowed hard line."

Prepared Testimony
McConnell's prepared testimony was made available outside the closed hearing by the Senate defense preparedness investigating subcommittee hearing top military leaders on the air war.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said today the panel was examining "not only what has been accomplished thus far by the bombing campaign, but what could have been accomplished had it not been so closely controlled and what can be accomplished in the future if the restrictions are removed."

Meanwhile Sen. Clifford P. Case suggested today the heavy U.S. military involvement in Vietnam has so trapped the Johnson administration that the Saigon government can ignore demands for basic civil reforms.

Can't Withdraw
Case, a New Jersey Republican and a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said plans to dispatch 45,000 additional U.S. troops emphasize that "American prestige is so deeply involved that we can't withdraw and the South Vietnamese, knowing this, feel free to ignore our requirements."

"I am convinced that the American people will not accept such a position," he said. "Yet the President's decision to send more troops is hard to reconcile with any conclusion other than that the administration has allowed itself to be trapped."

First of May Group Admits Embassy Attack

LONDON (UPI)—A revolutionary movement calling itself the First of May group said today it machinegunned the U.S. embassy in London to dramatize support for Latin American guerrillas and Negroes fighting against "white oppression" in the United States.

A handwritten letter signed "1st May Group" and quoting a printed note found at the embassy after the attack just before midnight Sunday was delivered to the offices of a British news agency today and handed over to Scotland Yard.

The letter followed embassy disclosure that two threatening telephone calls had been received since the attack and a report by British police sources that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had offered information on U.S. extremist organizations with possible British links.

3 Red Guards Killed by Foes Of Red Leader

HONG KONG (UPI)—Foes of Chinese Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung burned to death three Red Guards and murdered, beat and arrested others in Kweichow province, official Chinese radio broadcasts said Monday night.

In a broadcast heard here, provincial Kweichow Radio denounced anti-Mao elements also for using "poisonous chemical gas" in the "cultural revolution" struggle for supreme power in Communist China.

Arrests Mount in New Haven; Seek Methods To Halt Riots

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A weary Mayor Richard C. Lee met with high ranking police officials today in an effort to ward off a fourth straight night of racial violence.

The sporadic violence — fire-setting and looting — followed a ring-like course Monday night that encircled downtown New Haven.

The city remained in a state of emergency as arrests — mostly on charges of breach of the peace — mounted. Most of those arrested were Negroes.

More than 350 arrests have been reported since the disturbances broke out Saturday night, reportedly spurred by the shooting of a Puerto Rican man by the white proprietor of a snack bar on Congress Avenue.

City, and state police were plagued Monday night by fires and looting which spread in a widening ring from the Hill section along Congress Avenue.

Thirty-eight blazes were reported by authorities between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. The fires caused police to resort occasionally to tear gas to keep crowds clear of the firefighters.

Two firebombing incidents, confirmed by authorities, contributed to making the night the worst of the three in terms of fire calls.

Looting
Police said that most of the looting incidents occurred at liquor stores. They said the looting Monday night was on about the same scale as the night before but declined to estimate the losses.

Western States Battle Spreading Forest Fires

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Vast forest land areas of Idaho, Oregon, Montana and British Columbia were aflame today as firefighters sought to overcome manpower shortages; hot, dry weather, and a threat of lightning storms in the Northwest.

More than 400 new fires were reported Monday in the region. Washington State officials said the forest fire threat there was the worst in history.

Spokesmen for the U.S. Forest Service regional office in Ogden, Utah, said exact estimates on the number and size of the fires are impossible.

"We don't have enough men to cover all the fires," Richard Stauber, Forest Service information officer, said. "We've been trying to fight the big ones and then on to the others as we can."

He said the Forest Service, state and volunteer groups hoped to muster enough manpower today to control all but the most minor blazes. No fatalities have been reported.

A major blaze southwest of the small north Idaho community of Peck mushroomed out of control. More than four square miles of tinder-dry-trees and grass had been blackened Monday night.

About 70 other smaller fires were burning in north Idaho, while southern Idaho firefighters attempted to choke off the largest of 80 blazes. Hardest hit were Payette and Salmon National forests. More than 250 new fires have hit Idaho since Sunday night. In Oregon, more than 1,000 men faced blazes rac-

Funds for New Employees At DSS, Lincoln OK'd

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A bill appropriating $13 million for additional staffing at the Lincoln and Dixon state schools has been signed by Gov. Otto Kerner.

The funds will permit hiring of 1,500 new employees, including child care aides and workers, nursing assistants or practical nurses, in the institutions for mentally retarded.

The bill is part of a program to expand care and facilities for the mentally retarded. Legislation setting up $54 million to construct six, 400-bed facilities was signed Monday by Kerner.

All of the new facilities are to be built in northeastern Illinois, at as yet undesignated locations, and will be financed on a long-term basis through the Illinois Building Authority.

The bill carries a $7.6 million appropriation for the first two-year lease payments to the authority.

Kerner signed another measure removing the $30,000 limit on recovery of damages on wrongful death cases.

Three other approved bills provided that the chairman of the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board, Illinois Veterans Commission and Civil Service Commission will serve at the governor's pleasure.

Kerner vetoed a bill to prohibit issuance of a motorcycle license to anyone under 18. He (See FUNDS . . . Page 8)

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Rap Brown

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal grand jury here indicted H. Rap Brown today on a charge of carrying a .30 caliber carbine across state lines while under indictment.

The two-count indictment stated that Brown flew from New York to New Orleans with the carbine on Aug. 16 and returned to New York with the weapon two days later.

Brown was arrested in New York last Saturday on a complaint filed by the U.S. attorney here. He has been in jail since then, unable to make $25,000 bond.

Brown, Negro chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, had been scheduled to address a Negro rally in Baton Rouge Sunday. Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen said he had planned to arrest Brown in Baton Rouge on a treason charge. McKeithen said the Justice Department learned of the state's plan and arrested Brown first.

Set Vote On Oregon School Unit

OREGON — Voters within the Oregon High School District will vote Sept. 23, from noon to 7 p.m., on a proposed community unit school district for the elementary and high schools.

At a special session of the elementary school board, Monday, District Supt. Robert Bonnen said that the date for the referendum was set by County School Supt. Woodrow Schwartzbaugh.

Referendum polling places include Pleasant Hill and Chana Schools, Oregon City Hall, and the Ogle County Farm Bureau building.

The board approved the calendar for the coming year, including Oct. 12, Columbus Day, as a legal holiday, as established by the Illinois Legislature.

Part-time remedial mathematics teacher, Mrs. Kathy Johnson, who serves two hours a day was granted a pay increase from $3 a day to $9 a day.

Supt. Bonnen reported the anticipated enrollment for the elementary schools totals 1,145 students. According to Bonnen, 620 students will attend Nash School, and, that before the Jefferson School, ten years ago, the total enrollment of Nash School was 720 students.

Included in the enrollment increase, 50 over last year, are about 35 seventh and eighth grade pupils from St. Mary's School, troopers to 400 city policemen be reduced to one-to-three; that city police be prohibited from carrying rifles; and that residents of the Hill section be given identification passes to allow them to move about after curfew.

There were no immediate indications that city officials intended to honor any part of the request. However, the tempo of looting and fire-setting decreased markedly at about 1 a.m.

The Negroes and Puerto Ricans involved in the disturbances are "looking for an excuse to express their feeling about where they live," said Curtis Belton, head of Operation Breakthrough, a Hill Parents Association.

Mrs. Fred Harris, wife of the association president, announced late Monday that the "deal" had been proffered.

She said that the main points were that the ratio of 200 state

STATE FAIR RESULTS
Lee County was well represented at the 1967 Illinois State Fair, both in home economics and agriculture. Tammy Swanson of the Nelson Merry-makers received an "A" rating on her dress which was sent for construction. Also in construction, Ann Foley of the Dixie Teens received a "B" rating on her jumper and blouse. Judy Levan of the Hamilton Hustlers received a "C" rating on her dress.

All three sets of dining covers received "A" ratings. Those sent from Lee County were made by Mary Lou Plock of the Palmyra Pixies, Denise Weiler of the Lucky Seamers and Margie Salzman of the Gold Star 4-H Club.

The Hamilton Hustlers 4-H Club received participation for their Share-the-Fun act which they performed on Tuesday, August 15th. Gerald Salzman of the Swamp Aces and Mary Bushman of the Nelson Merry-makers and Nelson Knockouts both received "A" ratings on their speeches.

Congratulations to these 4-H'ers for a job well done! There are many hours of work and frustrations put in to produce a finished product, whether they win or lose.

NATIONAL 4-H WEEK

Sept. 30—Oct. 7
To speak of National 4-H Week now may seem premature to many of you but it is only a month away. Now is the time to start thinking of the new 4-H year even before the old one is finished. One of the aims of this week is to get more young people, nine to nineteen, to join 4-H. Good citizenship will be accentuated again this year as National 4-H Week is observed Sept. 30 to Oct. 7. "Join 4-H: A World of Opportunity," is the theme. In the spotlight will be about 2 1/2 million 4-H'ers completing their year's work and starting new work.

Appropriate activities are scheduled nationally in each state, county, and nearly every community. Focus will be on an updated, expanding 4-H program intended to reach increasingly more boys and girls throughout the country—on farms; also in towns, cities, and suburbs.

In the "new 4-H," everyday learning experiences—called "projects" now offer members more "why's" as well as "how's" in their science emphasis. More career information helps the young man or woman explore career possibilities. Youth going into agriculture do more specializing. Greater stress attaches to youth problems such as education, jobs, personal values, and goals. The disadvantaged are being reached more than at any time in the past.

Today's 4-H'er may raise small animals if he hasn't space or money for larger animals. He may grow plants in flower pots or backyard plots if he lacks a country garden. Also in many states, television stations offer 4-H meetings on the air. These are educational "action series" that teach by videotape presentations, and offer follow-through suggestions for carrying projects in the home.

Some of the activities to promote 4-H Week are window displays put up in the communities by the local 4-H club, news releases, and Leader's Banquet sponsored by the 4-H Federation to honor their leaders and many more.

Village Board Holds Meeting In Nelson

NELSON—The regular monthly meeting of the Nelson Village Board was held recently at the Village Hall, with President Harry Remrey presiding. Board members present included David DeVries, Vincent Peska, Lawrence Wallingford, and Harold Winters. Rollo Bunnell and Elwin Quaco were absent.

Minutes of the last regular meeting and the treasurer's report were read and approved. Funds received since last regular meeting was $19.07.

In other action, the board transferred $300 from the contingent fund to the treasurer's and salaries fund. Bills in the amount of $196.65 were presented to the board and ordered paid.

The board voted to repair broken places in the sidewalks and do some street repair work.

The 1967 Ogle County 4-H Show is now history. Again it was a huge success. I personally wish to thank the news media for their support in helping to promote this wonderful event which does recognize the outstanding achievement of our young people enrolled in 4-H Club work.

Appreciation is also extended to the business and civic groups which purchased advertisements and presented awards.

All leaders who served on committees did outstanding work, and were complimented several times by parents and friends during the two day show.

4-H'ers it's time to close out your records and get them to your leader for finish-up by Friday. The new club year starts on Sept. 1.

Are rats a problem at your farm? About a month ago a farmer came to the office for help. The rats are about ready to carry us off," he said. "What can we do?"

Use Warfarin. Buy some of the concentrate and mix a small amount of it into some fresh hamburger. Place about two meat balls in a paper plate or tin can top. Place the bait under a box in or under cribs and near trails from the corn crib or barn to wood piles usually along the fence. The box top should be open.

Place the open side down with a small 2 by 2 inch hole at one corner near the fence or wall. The small hole prevents cats and dogs from getting to the bait.

Harvest Dates For Apples Recommended

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UPI)—Illinois apple growers have established recommended statewide harvest dates in a fight against sale of immature fall and winter apples.

A committee which met here last week said Illinois apples harvested prior to the recommended dates would, under most circumstances, not be of optimum quality.

Apple maturity is determined by a number of factors including color, number of days since full bloom, sugar content and strength of stem attachment. Apples picked before maturity often are lacking in color, sugar content and size.

The Illinois Fruit Council said prospects in Illinois are for a total crop of 2,150,000 bushels.

Recommended harvest dates by the Illinois Horticultural Society by variety include:

Jonathan: Southern Illinois, Aug. 25; south central, Aug. 31; central, Sept. 6; northern, Sept. 12.

Red Delicious: Southern Illinois, Sept. 1; south central, Sept. 7; central, Sept. 13; northern, Sept. 17.

Golden Delicious: Southern Illinois, Sept. 10; south central, Sept. 16; central, Sept. 22; northern, Sept. 28.

Entertaining This Weekend

Long range planning makes it possible to entertain weekend guests more often and enjoy it. Beds, baths, food—and children—all need advance consideration.

Sleeping arrangements should be geared to your space and to the maximum number of guests you generally need to accommodate. When furnishing a family room or den, give some thought to installing a studio couch or a sleeper-sofa. A hi-riser or trundle bed in a child's room can hide a bed for a young visitor. Lightweight aluminum folding cots with foam mattresses are ideal extra beds. You may make decorative, easily-cared for "slip-covers" to protect these cots from dust during storage.

If you keep a crib on hand for visiting infants, supply a plastic covered mattress; then give it and the bed railing a good sudsing after the little visitor leaves. Camp cots topped with aid mattresses take little storage space and set up quickly. These are especially good for small children since any "accidents" can be easily cared for.

Worn sheets from larger beds can be cut to fit these narrow beds. If you mark a corner of each size sheet and pad with colored thread, this will facilitate sorting and stacking after laundering.

While it is desirable to have beds made up—or at least linen laid out—before guests arrive, departing company can be asked to strip beds, fold a cot, dismantle a crib, or replace a studio couch. Guests appreciate having drawer space available. Everyone desires having some privacy. If space is at a premium, try storing the "extra" bed linens in drawers that can be used by visitors.

Bathrooms come in for extra use when there are houseguests. Be sure to have a good supply of clean towels and washclothes available—and enough towel racks to go around. Extra standing racks may be set up quickly. If there is not enough space in a bathroom, let guests use the free standing towel racks in their rooms.

Small decorative hooks are inexpensive and take little room, yet provide additional hanging space. Put out fresh cakes of soap for wash basins, bathtubs, and shower stalls. A large apothecary jar will hold reserve soap prettily.

Mothers Help Needed

Guest mothers are usually happy to help with meal preparation and dishwashing. Decide on what help you will need and want. This, too, is similar from one guest list to the next. Prepare some food dishes the day before and place them in the refrigerator or freezer. Shredding a salad and setting the table in advance cut down on meal-time rush.

Washing pre-serving dishes and pans makes the kitchen look tidy and provides space for serving dessert and stacking dirty dishes. Plastic food bags are hearty kitchen helpers, and many can be re-used after a thorough washing. To dry them quickly after rinsing, stuff with crumpled paper towels and then "stand" them to drain on a dish rack.

The often-time hostess learns to accept help graciously, to assemble all her serving needs ahead of time. Dishes which will be used again for another meal should be kept close at hand, and others should be put away promptly.

Entertaining Children

Children are in a special category. Your entertaining depends on how many there are in the combined host and guest families and on their ages. It is imperative to establish house rules, post these on a bulletin board, and explain them to the youngsters at the time when they are "settling in." This explanation should not be dictatorial—simply a few words about "how we do things here".

According to needs, rules might include calling attention to areas where play is permitted and the cut off time before meals, the need for respecting neighbor's property, and when meals are scheduled.

Since you can never count on the weather for outdoor play, it is important to have alternate activities planned. Fathers can be called upon to escort the young fry to local points of special interest, or to play taxi to and from a suitable movie.

With your home ready and some pre-planning, you will be able to greet company with a sincerely hospitable smile—even on short notice.

The shell of the diatom, a tiny one-celled plant, is of silica and consists of transparent halves, one fitting inside the other much as a pillbox fits inside its cover.

Today in History

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 22, the 234th day of 1967. There are 131 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1941, Nazi troops reached the outskirts of Leningrad, Russia, during World War II.

On this date:

In 1654, the man who has gone down in history as the first Jewish emigrant to America, Jacob Barsimson, landed at New Amsterdam.

In 1776, during the revolutionary war, British Gen. William Howe landed 10,000 soldiers on New York's Long Island.

In 1846, the annexation of New Mexico as U.S. territory was proclaimed at Santa Fe.

In 1928, Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York accepted the Democratic nomination for president.

In 1944, the U.S. army announced that its planes had made their first raids on Yap Island in the Carolines during the Pacific War.

In 1956, a Republican convention in San Francisco renominated President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Ten years ago—The State Department reversed a long-standing policy and said it would permit American news agencies to send correspondents to Communist China.

Five years ago — President

John F. Kennedy said the United States was behind the Soviet Union in the space race.

One year ago — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the United States wants de-escalation in Vietnam but the Communists have shown no interest.

Thrashing Show Slated This Weekend

The Early Days Gas Engine and Tractor Association is to be busy this week preparing for their seventh annual thrashing show to be held Saturday and Sunday at the Hickory Grove camping grounds, one mile north and a mile west of Ill. 88 and interstate 80 exchange.

A large field of grain has been cut and shocked to be threshed during the show. Threshing will be done with several machines, including a hand fed machine built in 1870. Power will be furnished by old steam engines and gas tractors built by early companies such as Case, Reeves, Advance-Rumley, Hart-Parr and Aultman-Taylor.

Also featured each day will be plowing done by horses, steam engines and gas tractors, which will bring back memories to the older folks and a history lesson for the younger ones.

On Sunday the Mississippi Valley Antique Auto Club will motor from the Quad Cities to display their autos.

Many old gas engines and the machines they powered to take care of farm chores such as grinding feed, milking, pumping water and the family wash will be on display and operating each day.

District 425 Schools To Open Aug. 30

SHABBONA — All schools in Community Unit School District 425 will open Aug. 30 at 8:45 a.m. This includes schools operating in Shabbona, Lee and Rollo.

Busses will operate this first day of school over the same routes and at approximately the same times as last spring. Children should be ready a few minutes ahead of schedule so that busses will not be kept waiting. All schools will be dismissed after 11:30 a.m. so that students will be home near lunch time.

Hot lunch programs in schools will begin on Aug. 31. The charge per lunch will be 35 cents for children in grades K-1, 2, 3, and 40 cents for students in grades 4-12; adults 45 cents. Milk will be available at three cents per half pint. Payments for the first week will be made Aug. 30.

Marlene Schulte, Mr. Sheffield Married in Franklin Grove Church

MR. AND MRS. SHIRLEY RAY SHEFFIELD

FRANKLIN GROVE — Marlene Schulte repeated marriage vows with Shirley Ray Sheffield in a late July ceremony held in St. Paul's Lutheran Church here performed by Rev. Stanley H. F. Koessler, pastor.

The bride is the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schulte of Oregon and Mr. and Mrs. Noah Sheffield of Mount Sterling, Ky., are parents of the groom.

Miss Nadine Roesler was soloist for the double-ring ceremony. The altar for the service was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and tinted blue carnations.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her foster father, and was attired in a colonial floor length formal with the train and neckline outlined in bridal pearls. The long open lace sleeves were made of Chantilly lace and nylon organza and the waistline lace was over taffeta. The bride's skirt was a very full colonial hooped in nylon organza outlined in Chantilly lace. Her train was a very full Wateau which also made from nylon organza trimmed with lace. Her headpiece was a rose cluster in a half-hat with silk illusion veiling. The bouquet she carried was white and blue carnations arranged to form a heart.

Miss Virginia Heller of Morrison was maid of honor and serving as bridesmaid was Miss Linda Mon of Mount Morris. Their identical full length blue gowns were of dacron over taffeta with white Venice trim. The sleeves were underlined in dacron to the elbow and ended in ruffles. The modified A-line skirts were full in the back. The headpieces were bridal blue half-hats of nylon loops with pearls and trimmed with flowers and blusher veiling.

The flower girl was Daun Morris and the ring bearer was Brian Morris, both of Oregon.

Earl Miller of Franklin Grove was best man and Morris Cox of Indiana was groomsman. Ray Miller, Dixon, and Tom Izer, Oregon, were ushers.

The newlyweds were honored at a reception in the church following the ceremony. The five-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white bells and blue flowers.

The cake was served by Mrs. Shirley Schaefer and Mrs. Barbara Hepler. Punch and coffee were served by Mrs. Sue Buccola. Guests were registered from Franklin Grove, Dixon, Rockford, Polo, Mount Morris, Ridott, Morrison, Rock Falls, Amboy, Lee Center and Beaver Dam, Wisconsin and Indiana.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Sheffield will live in California where he is stationed at Edwards Air Force Base.

Phyllis Adams Plans To Wed Jerry Wren

PHYLLIS ADAMS

ROCHELLE—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Harvell, Hillcrest, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis Adams, to Jerry L. Wren, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wren, Rochelle.

Miss Adams is a 1967 graduate of Rochelle Township High School and is employed at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb.

Mr. Wren is a 1963 Rochelle High graduate and is associated with Union Hall, Inc., Rockford.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Girls Sing At Canadian Ceremony

A group of 55 area Girl Scouts, including two from Dixon, gave a vocal concert before the changing of the guard at the Canadian Parliament Building at Ottawa, Sunday.

The girls called Mary Couzens, Freeport, executive director of the Green Hills Council of Girl Scouts from Montreal, Sunday evening, where they are returning from Expo 67.

While the high school age girls were waiting for the changing of the guard, they played their guitars and sang. Just before the changing was to take place, the Captain of the guard asked the girls to give a vocal concert. According to the girls' Canadian guides, this was very unusual.

Area girls in the group include: Judy Gibson and Susan Swanson, both of Dixon; Susan Wagenknecht, Polly Plog, Alice Loos, and Pat Specht all of Milledgeville; Kathy Geary, Sandy Janssen, Mary Bea Groves, Shirley Beightal and Rita Brown, all of Polo; and Joyce Crichton and Diane Stevens, both of Shannon.

Mrs. Richard Stevens, Shannon, was one of the six adults accompanying the girls on the Canadian trip.

A good rule for adding water when you are preparing soft-cooked eggs is to add 2 cups of water for the first egg and an additional cup for each egg used after that.

Twiggerie Is Great If You Are Straight

She doesn't have "a figgah." She's unglamorously impressed with everything new. She can hardly be understood and she's the idol of every teenage girl in America. She's Twiggy and she's cut a swath through the fashion world.

Her straight, little clothes and little girl look have influenced the design of everything from shoes and stockings to dresses, suits and coats. Adolescents relate to her, young women envy her, middle age ladies want to mother her and everyone buys the clothes with her look.

Because of her, it's great to be straight. Dresses come up as long shirts, their short length emphasized by oversized patch pockets. Coats keep to the straight and narrow and end somewhere in limbo between upper knee and thigh. Suits are definitely short in the skirt and carry little fitted jackets.

Details tell another story. Where line has grown simpler, the design touches have become more distinct. Zippers and buttons glare in bright brass or silver. Collars droop and shine with matching cuffs in bright white. Leather shows up all over and carries particular significance when it outlines a little suit.

Fabrics stay soft. Knits in bright colors, velvets in soft shades all fit the picture but for daywear and sports clothes, corduroy carries the message.

Large wales and deep ribs, suit the fashion look best, especially when they are dyed in subtle shades of cream, beige or brown.

Last but not least, don't forget accessories. Patterned hose in geometrics or glittery yarn, shiny patent pump and high-ribbed boots, broad-brimmed hats and polo caps in felt are credentials that make the look authentic.

Engagement Is Announced

ROCHELLE — Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Tilton are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne, to Charles Ginsburg, son of Mrs. Lucille Deming Ginsburg of Cobden.

Plans are being made for a fall wedding.

Bridge Marathon

Plans are being made for St. Anne's bridge marathon which will start Sept. 15. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Rex Flach, 284-6095; or Mrs. Charles O'Connor, 284-7276. There will be units for couples and for women and anyone may enter.

MAGIC OF PAPER

Exciting bold stripes, dots and Pucci-type prints, as well as large colorful florals, are found in all fashion categories for spring — beach dresses, party pajamas, hostess dresses and even maternity dresses. Negroes Fear Right To Die

(Second in a Series.)
By TOM TIEDE

NEW YORK (NEA) — There have been two legal executions performed in the United States this year and it is statistically in keeping that one of the victims was Negro.

This is tradition.

According to the Department of Justice, approximately one of every two convicts executed in the last 37 years has been colored. The official count of gassings, hangings, electrocutions and civil shootings since 1930 is: 1,066 Negroes, 1,750 whites, 43 of other races.

And there is no indication of any future reversal of the percentage. More Negroes are currently in prison death houses than ever before. As of the beginning of the year there were 225 of them, some 50 in excess of their white peer population.

Obviously, such statistics disturb America's black community.

"Why?" asks a Catholic priest in Harlem. "Negroes comprise only about 11 per cent of the country's population, but 53 per cent of its executions. My question is why?"

Police on the beat have a stock answer. And it is an honest answer. They say that Negroes predominate in the kind of lower socioeconomic class that is likely to commit crimes of frustration and violence, crimes that lead to the gallows.

Law officers insist that the disproportion of Negro executions is to be expected since, they say, there is a disproportion of Negro arrests, because, they say, there is a disproportion of Negroes engaging capital offenses.

Not surprisingly, Negroes doubt this explanation.

Charges of a New York member of the NAACP: "The reason more Negroes are executed is because black men facing the chair haven't the same chance as white men. They haven't the same money, they haven't the same friends and they haven't the same sympathy."

Some white observers concur. "I have never seen a person of means go to the chair," says former Ohio Gov. Mike Disalle (1959 through 1962). "The poor, the illiterate, the underprivileged, the members of the minority group is society's blood sacrifice."

DISPROPORTIONATE NUMBER of Negroes in death houses.

Negro history books are full of examples. Some of the more tragic:

—In the middle of the 18th century, rebellious colored slaves were legally and summarily burned at the stake in various parts of New York and New Jersey.

—In 1936, more than 20,000 spectators gathered at Owensburg, Ky. to witness a court-ordered Negro hanging which was the last public execution held in the nation.

—In 1912, Virginia Christian, 17, a Negro, became the youngest girl ever executed in America. In 1944, George Stinney Jr., 14, a Negro, became the youngest boy.

But past examples do not gall Negro observers nearly so much as do present. They point especially to the South, where they claim the death houses are scandalously dominated by black occupants and where 75 per cent of all black executions have taken place.

Figures bear out the complaint. Ten Negroes and one white are awaiting execution today in South Carolina. In Georgia it's 12 and 7 respectively. In Florida it's 36 to 15. It's 6 to 0 in Tennessee, 13 to 6 in Alabama, 11 to 0 in Arkansas.

And the death records are equally lopsided. According to numbers kept between 1930 and 1965, 17 southern states registered 1,659 black executions to 636 white; 1,100 of the Negroes were killed in only seven of the states, 298 in Georgia alone.

Considering these figures, then, it is little wonder that civil rightists are among the staunchest anti-execution workers in the nation. Says an NAACP member: "We're sometimes known as the National Association for the Abolition of Capital Punishment."

Few people would dispute that the Negroes have a valid claim for such concern. Penologists agree that discrimination is a justifiable argument against CP since it is well known some states have tailored capital punishment to fit the black offender.

Florida, as example, has made a penetrating study of the equality of the death penalty laws and the findings are embarrassing.

According to the study, the United States executed 449 men for rape between 1930 and 1963 and 90 per cent of those condemned were Negro. During the same period, Florida executed 36 men for rape and 35 were Negroes.

There are, of course, a few Negro rapists who aren't expeditiously electrocuted. In Florida, one was granted a new trial . . . and shot dead by a sheriff while en route to court.

Three Youths Found Innocent In Boat Theft

Three Dixon boys ranging in ages from 11 to 14 were found innocent today by Circuit Judge James E. Bales of stealing a boat in the Rock River, Aug. 9.

Judge Bales, who rendered his decision after a bench trial, at one point in the trial had to order Henry S. Dixon, state's attorney, to produce a state witness in 15 minutes or "I will dismiss these cases."

After testimony from the three youngsters revealed they thought they had permission to use the boat by another 14-year-old, whom the state's attorney did not subpoena as a state's witness, Judge Bales said in order to evaluate the case properly, the missing state witness' testimony was necessary.

The state's attorney left the courtroom hastily and in less than 15 minutes returned with the youth who testified that while he did not give the three boys permission to use the boat, he did indicate to them that if the boat was untied it could be used.

The prosecution had not established that the boys untied the boat or broke a chain to which it was attached. It was pointed out that the boat could have been loosened by anyone. The boys themselves testified that the boat was untied when they used it in the river.

Held in Jail

Sara Contois, 31, 707 Third St., today is in County Jail in lieu of paying a $25 fine she received from Magistrate Morey Pires after pleading guilty to disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Contois was arrested by Dixon Police for creating a disturbance at the 621 Club, 621 Depot Ave.

Lamb Commends Motorists For Reducing Wrecks

Commissioner George Lamb today commended Dixon motorists for paying heed to the apparently successful campaign to wipe out accidents at dangerous intersections by painting them with large crosses.

Lamb said prior to the painting last May, each of the seven intersections painted were sites of several bad accidents, but that since the painting, none have been reported at any of them.

Today the intersections received a new coat of paint, Lamb added and said he hoped to repeat the painting at other hazardous intersections.

Arrest Iowa Man for Theft

A Davenport, Iowa, man arrested by deputy sheriff Ronald Linscott for stealing four boxes of spark plugs from an Ashton service station today is in County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond after pleading guilty to the charge in Magistrate Court.

Herbert Milton Boland, 67, was arrested here on a complaint signed by Ray W. Jeter, owner of the Gulf Service station on U.S. Alt. 30, Ashton.

Boland pleaded guilty to stealing the spark plugs, valued at less than $150, before Magistrate Morey Pires who continued the case until Monday.

DeKalb police have notified authorities here that they have a warrant charging Boland with theft in that city.

Happy Birthday

To Mrs. Lillie Bothe Shippert, 87, today; John Wernick, 14, today.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Glenn

MOUNT MORRIS — Mrs. Elizabeth M. Glenn, 88, 401 W. Center St., died today in Rockford Memorial Hospital following a long illness.

She was born July 31, 1881, at McConnellsburg, Pa., the daughter of Ephram and Virginia Beightol Houck. She was married to Harvey Glenn in September, 1902, at Milledgeville.

She was preceded in death by her husband.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Kness, Pearl City; Miss Mildred Glenn, Lanark; three sons, Frank, Mount Morris; Roland, Rochelle; and Kenneth, Rockford; four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren; two brothers, James, Lanark and Paul, McConnellsburg; and a sister, Mrs. Luther Gordon, McConnellsburg.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Finch Funeral Home. Burial will be in Evangelical Cemetery, Brookville.

Friends may call in the funeral home Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Clarence Oakes

ROCHELLE — Mrs. Clarence Oakes, 75, 1038 N. Seventh St., died Monday night in Rochelle Community Hospital where she had been a patient for 10 days.

She was born May 21, 1892, north of Flag Center, the daughter of Angus and Anna Kellum Bain. She was married to Clarence G. Oakes Feb. 13, 1918, at Rockford. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. She was preceded in death by a brother.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Mrs. John (Rogene) Dane and Mrs. Robert (Evelyn) Degryse, Rochelle; a son, Philmore, Rockford; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Omer (Clara) Musselman, Flag Center.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the Unger Funeral Home with the Rev. John DeVries officiating. Burial will be in White Rock Cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home Wednesday evening. A memorial has been established for the heart fund.

Harold F. Lynn

ROCHELLE — Harold F. Lynn, 72, Rt. 1, died Monday in Rochelle Community Hospital where he had been a patient since Friday.

He was born Jan. 26, 1895, at Rochelle, the son of Joseph and Susan Russell Lynn. He married Blanch Gregule Jan. 5, 1942, at Dubuque, Iowa.

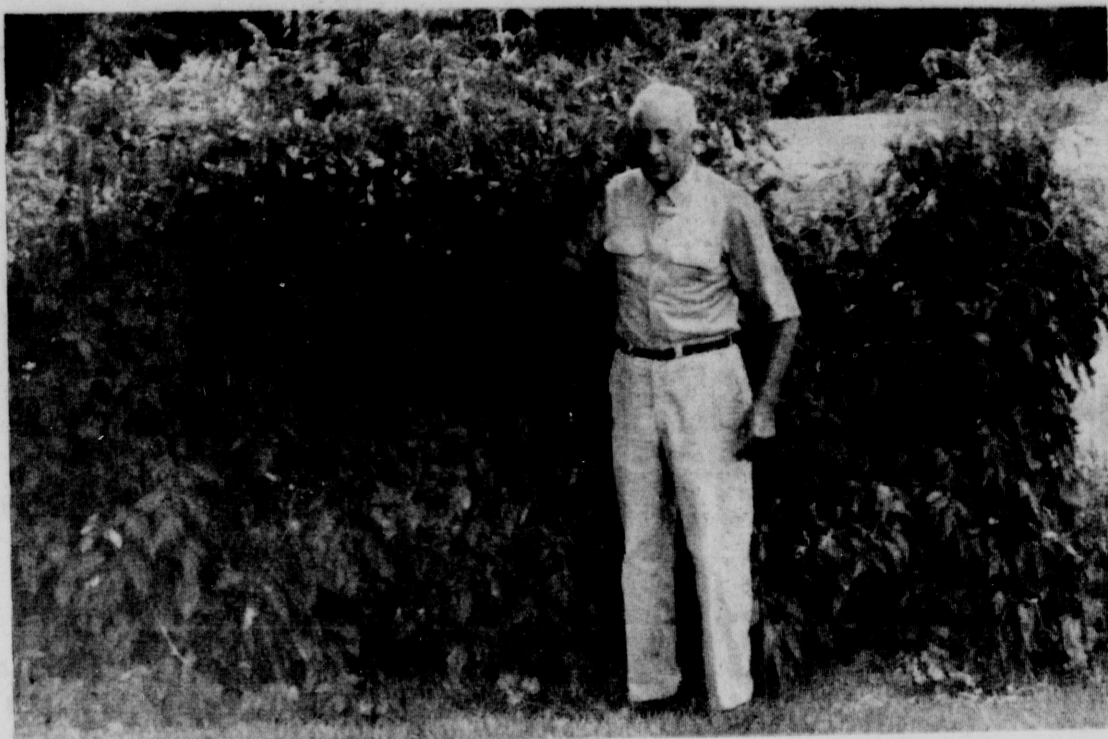

He was born and lived all his life on a farm near Rochelle, where he was residing at the time of his death, except for 10 years, when he lived in Tucson, Ariz.

Mr. Lynn was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Sycamore Commandery, Sycamore VFW, Joliet Masonic Lodge, Salome Chapter of the Eastern Star, Chapter 158 of the RAM, Tebala Temple Shrine, Rockford, and the Freeport Consistory. He was a World War I veteran.

He was preceded in death by a daughter.

He is survived by his widow.

Arrangements are being completed by the Unger Funeral Home.

GAA Plans Activities

The Girls Athletic Association (GAA) met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ben Roe, faculty supervisor, where a barbecue supper was served.

The girls discussed the schedule for the year's GAA activities. A hike to Lowell Park was planned for September, where a sack lunch will be eaten after the hike.

Also on the agenda was a motion to have an initiation both in the fall and spring. Some plans for social events were brought up: horseback riding, roller-skating, camp-out, and a co-ed sport-night. Speedway, tennis and archery will start Sept. 11th.

Officers present were: Sharon Gordon, president; Helen Doran, vice president; Sandy Kness, secretary-treasurer; Sally Bogott, sophomore sports chairman; Sue Varza, junior sports chairman; Sherrie Rolling, senior sports chairman; Kathy Hoyle, social chairman; Linda Pieper, publicity chairman, and Susan Williams, publicity chairman.

Letters have been sent to all freshman girls to acquaint them with the activities of GAA.

Dixonite Is Charged

Helen Hart, 71, 516 N. Ottawa Ave., has been charged with theft by Dixon Police on a complaint signed by Wendell Holmes, manager of Osco Drugs, 105 E. First St.

According to the complaint, Mrs. Hart obtained possession of several items in the store valued at $13.

Mrs. Hart is scheduled to appear in Magistrate Court Monday.

Driver Charged After Accident

Susan K. Fordham, 17, 516 Grant Ave., Monday was charged with failing to yield the right of way after the car she was backing out of a driveway at 318 Everett St., collided with another auto.

The driver of the other car which was eastbound on Everett was Gordon L. Willis, 25, 404 E. Fifth St. There were no injuries in the accident, police said.

The performances, starting with the free one, are entitled:

"Timbuktu and Beyond," Sept. 23; "This Is Egypt," on Nov. 4; "Austria," on Dec. 2; "Amazon Adventure in Peru," on Feb. 3; "Norwegian Panorama," March 2; "Holiday in the Canadian Rockies," March 30, and "Lumberjack's Alaskan Adventures," April 27.

Dr. Vernon Brickley is in charge of publicity.

Optimists To Sponsor Dale Carnegie Class

Harry Campbell, president of the Dixon Optimist Club, said the club will be sponsoring the Dale Carnegie Sales Course in the Dixon area. Campbell stated that although the Dale Carnegie Course in Effective Speaking and Human Relations has been offered several times in Dixon, this is the first time the "Sales Course" for salesmen and sales executives has been offered.

Campbell said that Ronald Cook, area representative for the Carnegie Courses will be in the Dixon area helping to form the class.

Campbell said that anyone wanting information about the sales program may address inquiries to him at 1460 College Ave.

Funds...

(Continued from Page 1) pointed out he previously signed a measure restricting such licenses to those 18 and over unless the applicant has passed a driver education course.

The governor killed another measure to require persons who drive a vehicle with gross weight of more than 12,000 pounds to have a chauffeur's license.

The bill contained some exemptions but Kerner said it would have an "onerous practical effect" on rental agencies, on persons who move their own furniture, and those who drive heavy vehicles incidental to their principal occupation.

Bombing...

Case's views were in a prepared Senate speech.

President Johnson said again Monday U.S. goals in the war are limited to stopping aggression "to assure a small and struggling nation the chance to chart its own future in freedom."

His remarks came at a White House ceremony at which he presented a Medal of Honor to Marine Gunnery Sgt. Jimmie E. Howard for valor in Vietnam.

Johnson made no reference to the Navy's earlier announcement that two of its attack planes were missing and presumed downed in Red China.

That announcement also brought little comment from senators who last week complained that bombings within 10 miles of the border were increasing the risk of Chinese intervention.

But Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said the straying of the planes over Red Chinese soil was "most unfortunate and very ominous."

"They're so sure China won't intervene," Fulbright said. "I don't know how they can be so sure when they shoot down warplanes of ours over their territory."

The spokesman was asked about former premier Tran Van Huong's charges that soldiers are being issued two voting cards, one where they are stationed and one in their hometown, enabling them to vote twice.

The spokesman said it was impossible for soldiers to get two registration cards but he said the government had warned anyone caught voting twice would be prosecuted.

Huong, the leading civilian candidate, said the military was deliberately issuing two cards to soldiers.

"We've found that when we check these things out, they don't amount to much. I think campaign workers were arrested should complain to the government instead of the foreign press.

They said they had no information to substantiate charges made by Ha Thuc Ky that government police and regional forces soldiers arrested 19 members of his revolutionary Dai Viet party and jailed them in Hue.

"I have no information on such an incident," a government spokesman said. "My first reaction is that these charges should be sent to the government for formal complaint. Instead, they complain to foreign correspondents."

"We've found that when we check these things out, they don't amount to much. I think

Oregon Schools Open Aug. 29

OREGON—Edward Gebhardt, superintendent of Oregon Community High School, and Robert Bonnen, superintendent of the Oregon Elementary Schools, have announced that opening day for school sessions will be Tuesday, Aug. 29. There will be a full day of classes with buses running on schedule.

There will be a teachers' workshop Monday, Aug. 28, for all faculty members at both the high school and elementary school.

Gebhardt has announced hiring of nine new faculty members to round out the teaching staff:

—Cheryl Bohart, Rochelle, a graduate of Northern Illinois University, previously taught at Genoa-Kinston, will teach vocal music and choral director.

—Roger Hewitt, Rochelle, a graduate of Northern Illinois University and previously taught at Earlville, will teach instrumental music and direct the band.

—Cheryl Grater, Morrison, received her degree in June from Illinois State University at Normal, will teach home economics.

AMC: Surtax Would Reduce Auto Sales

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's carefully prepared case for a 10 per cent tax increase has been dealt a heavy blow from the business world.

While the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) was urging higher taxes Monday, the board chairman of the financially troubled American Motors Corp. was declaring that the President's proposed surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes could reduce sales by 100,000 cars next year.

AMC Chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr., told newsmen at a press review of 1968 cars in New York that the surtax "would reduce by about $7 billion" the amount consumers could spend on cars and other products.

Since the health of the auto industry is a key factor in the health of the nation's economy, it seemed likely that Chapin's assessment would make the administration's job of selling the tax increase to the skeptical House Ways & Means Committee that much more difficult.

As for the NAM's support for the President's plan, even that was qualified. The organization's president, W. P. Gullander, told the Ways & Means panel Monday that the 10 per cent surcharge would be too much.

By reducing federal spending, Gullander indicated, Congress could get by with a 6 per cent surtax to reduce an "intolerable" $29 billion budget deficit expected by the end of this fiscal year.

Meantime, with an eye on the economy-minded House, Johnson took the unusual step of commending its Appropriations Committee for cutting the fiscal 1968 budget of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) by $234 million to $4.66 billion.

Retarded Enjoy Outdoor Activity

Bernard Sexton, Dixon, right, a volunteer worker at Dixon State School for the past six months, is shown above with two of his charges at an area miniature golf course. The boys, in their teens and both of Chicago, have also enjoyed fishing and other outdoor life with Sexton. More volunteers from the Dixon area are needed at the school, according to Mrs. Jean Slocum, director of the volunteer services program.

Volunteers Aid DSS Residents

With some 350 volunteer workers, some from as far away as Chicago, currently participating in Dixon State School's volunteer program, the need for more volunteers, especially from the Dixon area, continues to grow.

Among the present volunteer staff are people from every walk of life, including students, housewives, professionals and local businessmen.

These people in the program, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Slocum, are engaged in an activity rewarding in itself to see a DSS resident express delight, satisfaction and a sense of belonging to the community by taking part in that activity removing them, for too short a time however, from the institutional life they are accustomed to.

With the few hours spent with volunteers, DSS residents perform such everyday tasks taken for granted by non-residents as warming a pizza in the oven, applying nail polish and other cosmetics to their hands and faces, shopping in the community or playing miniature golf.

Mrs. Slocum explains that for many of the DSS residents, eating in a small kitchen-dining area in the volunteer services building is the first time they have eaten away from the crowded cafeteria where they usually eat.

Simply, the purpose of a volunteer worker at DSS is to entice a resident in even the most insignificant inter-personal relationships to acquaint them with activity that, although to them is far removed from institutional life, is commonplace in a community.

A two-fold purpose is served by the program: that of taking residents temporarily away from institutional life, the other, acquainting citizens in the community with the retarded, their needs and the vast number of programs undertaken at DSS, a part of the Dixon community.

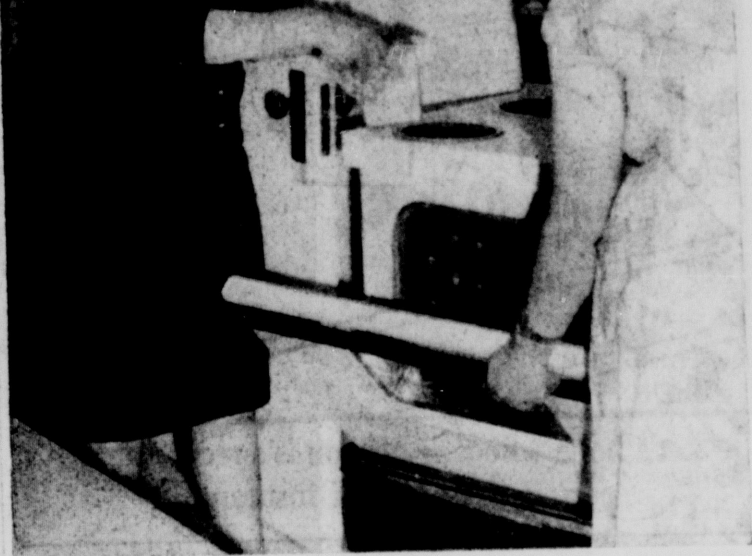

On Sept. 5, 19 and Oct. 3, orientation classes for new volunteers will be held. The school is now accepting applications for several volunteer assignments including Companionship Therapy; Cub Scout Den Mother; Language Development; Friendly Visiting; Auditor Training; Lip Reading and other programs.

Interested persons need not be specially trained in any particular field or employment to qualify as a volunteer worker, Mrs. Slocum said. Persons interested in the program should contact Mrs. Slocum at the school by telephoning 284-3311, ext. 445.

Release Funds For Work at State School

SPRINGFIELD—Funds totaling $80,126 have been released for work at Dixon State School for installation of air conditioning and for drafting plans for rehabilitation of the acute hospital.

Gov. Otto Kerner has approved $50,526 for architectural fees and preliminary plans for the hospital to update the facility. The Admiral Heating and Ventilating Co., of Hillside, was awarded a $29,600 contract for installing an air conditioning system in the clinical offices building.

Keep Canal Closed Until Troops Withdraw

By United Press International

Egypt will keep the Suez Canal closed until Israeli troops are withdrawn from occupied Arab territory, the authoritative Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said today.

The paper said Egyptian Economic Minister Hassan Abbas Zaky told the Baghdad conference of Arab economic ministers that the Cairo government had made a definite decision to keep the waterway shut until the consequences of Israeli "aggression" were wiped off Jerusalem.

Al Ahram said the decision "was a defensive measure as well as an economic one against the enemy states." The canal has been closed since June 6, the day after the war broke out. Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban was meeting today with

Senate Group Opens Hearing on Old-Age Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bulky Social Security Bill goes before the Senate Finance Committee today to undergo a scrutiny expected to last into October.

Committee members say they hope public hearings and executive voting sessions can be finished in time to get the bill before the Senate for debate by mid-October.

The Senate is considered certain to make many changes in the measure. Even if it passes, negotiations with the House will be required before the final bill goes to President Johnson.

The House-passed bill would raise basic Social Security benefits at least 12½ per cent and also boost the payroll taxes to pay for them. The President asked a 15 per cent increase in payments.

The House also added to the bill sharp curbs on federally-aided welfare programs, especially Aid to Dependent Children.

Administration witnesses leading off the testimony today are expected to ask that these welfare provisions be heavily revised and that the higher levels of benefits originally proposed by Johnson be restored. The witnesses will include

GI Killed in Attack by North Koreans

SEOUL (AP) — An American soldier was killed today and another was wounded in the third North Korean attack in as many days on the border between North and South Korea, the U.N. Command announced.

The two GIs were riding in a truck that was blown up by a land mine near the truce village of Panmunjon, 25 miles north of Seoul. The U.S. Army said a group of North Koreans then fired on the disabled vehicle.

An 8th Army spokesman said that one soldier died from injuries from the mine explosion but he did not specify whether the wounded man was hit by gunfire.

A second American truck struck a mine an hour and 20 minutes later in the same area but there were no casualties.

The men were from the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division, which is stationed on the armistice line dividing North and South Korea.

Lee Countians Attend NFO Convention

Included in the county group, Foss reported were two non-members of NFO.

More than 35,000 persons attended the NFO meeting in the Iowa capital city.

During the meeting delegates attending adopted the slogan, "No Price—No Production."

'68 cars to be higher priced?

Read why the clearance-priced '67 Ford may be the buy of the decade.

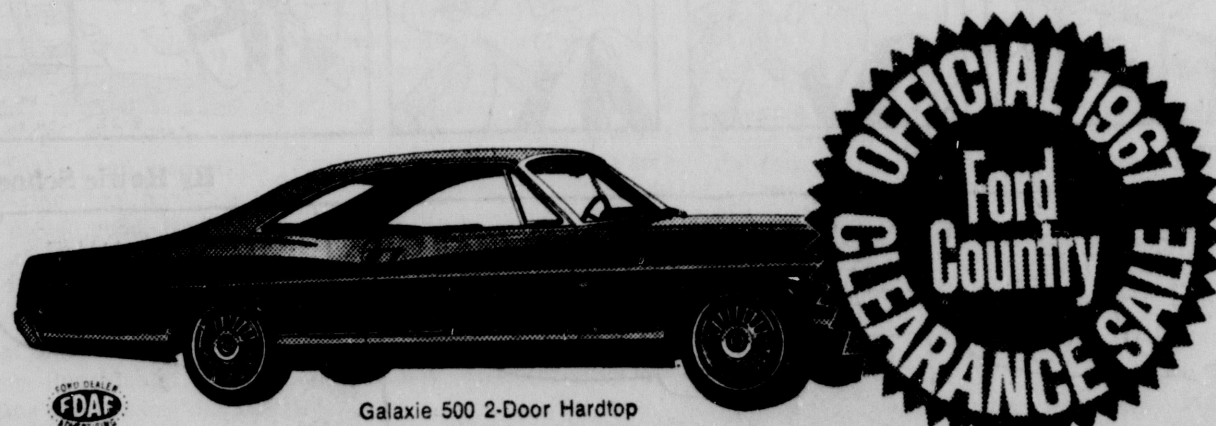

Will '68 prices go up? They're not likely to come down. Will other cars have Ford's strength, quiet, and "Better Ideas"? Don't bet on it! And consider:

THE '67 FORD is even quieter than the '66 Ford —quieter because it's the strongest ever built.

It's the strongest Ford in history. Proved on ski jumps and steeplechase hurdles. Proved at Daytona.

It has Ford "Better Ideas." Like SelectShift, that shifts both automatically and manually. Convenience Control Panel. Lots more.

THE '67 FORD is now yours at the lowest price of the year. Never in time to come can so little money buy so much car.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE D-532: Mary T. aged 33, is the wife of the radio announcer who quit his tobacco.

"Dr. Crane," she said, "Bill has become far more romantic in the last few weeks than he has ever been since our honeymoon."

"Do you suppose stopping his cigarettes is the cause?"

"If so, how does tobacco reduce a man's virility?"

At a national dental convention a few years ago, I mentioned that platonic husbands are more likely to be heavy smokers.

Then I cited several cases where men in their early 40s were totally impotent, yet their older brothers in the 50s were still virile and romantic.

Upon closer medical analysis, we found that the older men were not smokers.

Yet they had the same ancestry, so the platonic nature of the younger brothers was not due to inheritance.

Moreover, the wives of the impotent men were very pretty and seductive.

As a double check on this situation, we urged the younger men who were tobacco addicts, to cut out their smoking.

And within a matter of a few weeks, their erotic vigor began to perk up strikingly, without any hormone shots!

For the act of smoking diminishes not only a man's gastric appetite at the dinner table, but also his erotic hunger in the boudoir.

In fact, that was one of the underlying motives behind the urging of cigarettes on our men in military service in both the World Wars declared by Congress in 1917 and 1941, plus Truman's and Kennedy's private wars produced by mere executive agreement, namely Korea and Vietnam!

For smokers don't get into as much sexual trouble with the native girls!

Tobacco thus acts as a tranquilizer, much like a baby's pacifier!

But virile males are not tranquil.

Castrated animals are tranquil, such as steers and geldings, capons and barrows.

But stallions and bulls, roosters and boars are anything but tranquil.

So the use of tobacco causes a partial chemical castration phenomenon. It produces a temporary anesthesia of eroticism!

Fortunately, it is not irreversible, so those addicts who finally quit their slavery to King Nicotine, can again become virile, as Mary attests regarding her husband.

There are several ways by which tobacco can produce this reduced erotic desire in males.

For example, the blood vessels in the extremities contract when a person smokes, thus producing a temperature drop of almost 20 degrees in the fingers, toes, etc.

This reduced blood supply can be a real physiological cause for the tobacco-impotence that afflicts smokers.

But there is another vital psychological factor which I'll explain tomorrow.

Meanwhile, send for my booklet "How to Prevent Platonic Marriage," enclosing a long stamped return envelope plus 20 cents.

Over 700 dental surgeons wrote for this within a week after I had addressed their national convention.

For dental surgeons are smart

Drag Racing's World Series Opens Thursday

CORDOVA — The largest cash purse ever offered in drag racing, $40,860, will be presented to the top drag racers from all over the United States at the 14th annual World Series of Drag Racing, this weekend at Cordova Dragway.

Among those competing for the largest single prize, $2,000, as Top Fuel Eliminator of the meet Sunday, will be Dave Babler, Los Angeles, Calif., who has had a quarter-mile of 6.9 seconds and a speed of 226 mph. Also seeking honors are Cliff Zink, Chicago, owner of the Cordova speed record of 226 mph; Powers and Riley, Dubuque, Iowa, with an all-new car (the old car was completely destroyed in a spectacular flip earlier this year) and the "Telstar," winner of the 1965 World Series Top Fuel award, owned by Charles Proite, and driven by Fred Welshman, both of New Berlin, Wis.

A total of 32 of the nation's finest fuel dragsters will be competing for the title of Top Fuel Eliminator at speeds of over 200 mph.

Franklin Life Bests All-Stars

Franklin Life, in an extra inning contest, bested the Future League All-Stars 6-5 at Reynold's Field. Steve Reed claimed the victory, striking out 12 batters while losing hurler Joe Burian blizzed 11.

Jim Eastman had the club's lone extra base hit, a double.

The winning run was scored by Steve Reed, who singled, stole second, then third and came home on a sacrifice fly by Steve Weidman.

Christensen tripled and Fane, Heig and Burian doubled for the All-Stars.

Winner of Top Fuel last year was the "Snake," Don Prudhomme, Granada Hills, Calif., who had an elapsed time of 7.43 seconds and a speed of 222 mph to defeat "Big Daddy," Don Garlits, Seffner, Fla., on the final run.

Ron Colson, Oregon, who last year toured Australia with his Chevrolet-powered gas dragster, will be heading up the field entered in Top Gas Eliminator competition.

Also entered in Top Gas competition will be Hirata and Vodnick, Lowell, Ind., whose driver, Bobby Vodnick became a world's champion at 19; and Mark Pieri, Rockford, with the "Playboys" gas dragster.

The World Series begins Thursday with time trials and qualifications all day. Friday will feature a double show, time trials and qualifications all day and in the evening the "Super Nitro-Fuel Funny Cars" will race for a total of $6,400 cash.

Saturday morning, qualifications will be featured with Stock Car eliminations Saturday afternoon. "Injected Fuel Funny Cars" and "Super Stocks" will race Saturday evening.

Between rounds of the funny cars eliminations Friday and Saturday, the big nitro-fuel and gas dragsters will attempt to qualify for their eliminations to be held Sunday.

The grand finale of the World Series will be held Sunday, beginning at 9 a.m. Top Fuel Eliminator, Top Gas Eliminator, Super Eliminator, and Little Eliminator brackets will be run off to decide the champions.

Players Refuse Text Retraction

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Player-representative Jack Aker said today that the Kansas City Athletics have voted unanimously to defy clubowner Charles O. Finley by refusing to retract a statement that they were being spied upon by "unauthorized personnel."

The Athletics took their stand after first baseman Ken Harrelson was given his unconditional release and Aker was fined $250.

"On having a meeting requested by Mr. Finley to discuss the possibility of retracting our original statement of Aug. 18, we the players of the Kansas City Athletics have voted unanimously to leave the statement as stated," said Aker after a meeting before Monday night's game with the Baltimore Orioles.

Finley and the players had no comment after a post-game meeting that lasted an hour and 50 minutes. Finley refused to answer when asked the direct question, "Will the present Kansas City Athletics play the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday night?" The teams are scheduled for a two-night doubleheader.

Aker said the players planned to take no action about the release of Harrelson and denied a report that Finley had threatened to suspend the entire team unless the Aug. 18 statement of the players was retracted.

Finley said he was forced to fire manager Alvin Dark on Sunday "because some players were not living up to established standards of major league conduct."

Harrelson, who was hitting .273, visited the Athletics' clubhouse Monday night and said he is negotiating with six major league teams. Harrelson was released because he criticized Finley and Aker was fined for allegedly breaking the Athletics' midnight curfew Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Finley explained his actions in a statement Monday.

"As owner of the Kansas City Athletics it is incumbent upon me to demand that all members of our organization conduct themselves in a manner that will reflect high credit upon the American League and baseball in general," said Finley.

"For this reason, I have seen fit to make several changes in the Kansas City organization," Finley said.

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Kenny Harrelson, a stand-up guy, had a hunch it was going to be a bad day.

So the last thing he did before going to sleep was pick up the phone and tell the hotel operator he didn't want any incoming calls at all.

He emphasized the last two words. "At all." The operator assured him she understood.

Charles O. Finley doesn't happen to be just anybody at all. He's the owner of the Kansas City ball club. But even more than that he's a man, who in his own unique way, can be as stubbornly determined as Vince Lombardi at times.

The operator at the Baltimore hotel patiently explained to him Mr. Harrelson had left specific instructions he didn't wish any calls . . . at all . . . but Finley did some patient explaining of his own early Monday morning and guess what? He got through.

Comments on Firing

Only a few hours before this phone call Harrelson told a newspaperman that the firing of Alvin Dark was going to leave "a bad taste" in the mouths of all the Kansas City ball players.

The first baseman might have let it go at that, but he didn't. "Finley's worst mistake was putting the (Lew) Krausse thing in the newspapers. His firing of Dark was just as bad."

Right after he said that, Harrelson knew Finley was bound to read it. He realized there would be repercussions. But he was only being honest in his open admiration for Dark and he hoped Finley somehow might understand.

"I knew he was gonna do something when he read what I had said, but I had no idea what it would be," says Harrelson. "I didn't get much sleep Sunday night. I was thinking about it all night."

And now here was Finley on the phone from Chicago.

"He didn't show a great deal of anger at first," Harrelson says, "but he said he was surprised and shocked by some of the things I was quoted on. A few words they quoted me on weren't exactly accurate, but most of them were."

"As Charlie and I talked over the phone, I was sorry for a few of the things I said. I was sorry enough that I was prepared to make a public apology, and I told Charlie that. After all, the man has been good to me. Financially and otherwise, he helped me out of a couple of spots."

Change Of Heart

"We talked about 20 minutes and then he said to me why didn't I go ahead and prepare the statement I had in mind and he'd call me back in 30 minutes. I said fine and we hung up."

"But when he called me back, he had apparently changed his mind and he said, 'I want to tell you that as of this moment you have your unconditional release from the Kansas City club.'"

Kenny Harrelson is returning to Kansas City from where he'll start calling up the other clubs and asking them whether they can use a right-handed first baseman hitting .273, and .315 over the past two months.

"I wanna get with another club as soon as possible," says Harrelson. "All I really wanna do is play baseball."

He needn't worry too much because he undoubtedly will catch on with someone. All he did was speak up in defense of his manager. That's really no crime although you have to question his timing.

Alvin Dark should feel proud to have a friend like Kenny Harrelson. Occasionally, he's misguided, but he's always honest.

The suspicion exists that deep down, even Charlie Finley likes the guy.

Football Cards Edge Baltimore

By Our Wire Services

It looks like the St. Louis football Cardinals have found the perfect defense—let the other team score.

St. Louis punter Joe Randall downed the ball in the end zone with less than two minutes to go and gave the Baltimore Colts a two-point safety. The Cardinals held on to beat Baltimore 9-5 in an NFL exhibition game Monday night.

"Charley (St. Louis head coach Charley Winner) told me to get the safety and then punt," Randall said. "I didn't even think of it until Charley said it. Charley didn't think of it until field goal kicker Jim Bakken, who won the game with three field goals, came up with the idea.

"Jim came over and suggested it," Winner said. "We thought about it and figured it would take a touchdown to beat us either way, and this way we figured to get better field position."

The only way to measure Jim Hart's progress is on the scoreboard.

For the quarterback who has so suddenly been slipped into Charley Johnson's shoes, statistics do not tell the story. The scoreboard does, though, and on the battlefield of the National Football League, that is what counts.

The scoreboard Monday night read the St. Louis Cardinals 9, the Baltimore Colts 5. And that is what gets to the Hart of the matter.

The victory evened the Cardinals' exhibition log at 1-1 after an opening 23-14 defeat to the New Orleans Saints and dealt the Colts their first exhibition game defeat since 1964, when they bowed to the Cardinals, 20-21. Since then, they had won 13.

Hart, who stepped in when Johnson, St. Louis' top quarterback and one of football's most versatile, stepped out to answer an Army call, completed only 9 of 28 passes for 143 yards against the Colts. Three of them were intercepted.

But twice he drove his team inside the Colt 10 yard line before the Cardinals lost possession, and in the second quarter he maneuvered his team into range for two field goals by Jim Bakken.

Those field goals traveled 17 and 29 yards. In the third quarter, Bakken kicked a third goal of 51 yards, the longest of his pro career.

Lou Michaels scored for Baltimore, kicking a 37-yard field goal late in the second quarter.

Late in the game the Cards froze a Baltimore scoring effort on the one-yard line, but then were unable to move the ball away from the goal line. Joe Randall, back to punt, held the ball for a safety and two points for Baltimore.

Howard Singles Home Run; Boston Wins 6-5

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

Elston Howard, for three weeks an outsider at the Red Sox revelries, finally is getting into the swing of things.

A prominent member of the New York Yankees for 13 years, Howard was shocked by his trade to Boston on Aug. 3 and didn't fully recover until Monday night when he finally became a member in good standing of the American League's hippest team.

The 38-year-old Howard, whose contributions to that point had been mainly in the way of knowledge and experience behind the plate, put his bat to work against the Washington Senators and delivered his first game-winning hit in a Red Sox uniform, a bases-loaded single in the ninth that provided Boston with a 6-5 victory.

It was only his seventh hit and second run batted in since joining the Sox but came at an important time, enabling Boston to move to within a single game of first place and stretching the club winning streak to five games.

Chisox Top Yanks

The Chicago White Sox moved into a tie for first with the idle Minnesota Twins by edging the Yankees 4-3. California defeated Cleveland 6-4 and Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-2 in the only other AL games.

Howard's hit ended an 0-for-9 famine and came after he had left six runners stranded earlier in the game. Boston erased a 3-2 deficit with three runs in the seventh inning on singles by Jim Lonborg and Yastrzemski sandwiched around an error. Scott's sacrifice fly drove in another run and Smith's triple scored Yastrzemski.

But rookie Mike Epstein hit his first homer in five weeks with Frank Howard aboard in the Washington eighth to tie the score 5-5 and set the stage for Howard's ninth-inning heroics. John Wyatt, who yielded Epstein's homer, picked up his seventh victory in relief of Lonborg.

Colavito Homers

Rocky Colavito, acquired by the White Sox for the stretch drive, slammed a two-run homer and Hoyt Wilhelm pitched 3 1-3 innings of shutout relief as the Sox deadlocked the Twins. Steve Jones collected his first major league win with the help of Wilhelm.

Pinch-hitter Bubba Morton doubled home two runs and Jim Fregosi singled in another during a three-run fifth that enabled the Angels to snap a seven-game losing streak. Jim Coates, involved in a near free-for-all when his pitch struck Tony Horton on the batting helmet, won his first game of the year with 2 2-3 innings of hitless relief. Larry Brown and Fred Whitfield homered for the Indians.

Frank and Brooks Robinson, the twin boosters in Baltimore's rise to the pennant last season, each hit a two-run homer and Frank doubled in another run during the Orioles' triumph. Gene Brabender went the distance for the Orioles, limiting the Athletics to five hits.

Injuries Plague Houston Oilers

By ART BENTLEY

HOUSTON (UPI)—Although Coach Wally Lemm of the Houston Oilers worries considerably about quarterback, he also realizes his football team won't be very successful without 11 hale and hearty individuals on the field at all times.

Lemm is becoming more and more apprehensive about injuries.

He has good reason. Defensive end Gary Cutsinger is probably out for the season with a back injury. Linebacker Pete Barnes likely won't return before midseason because of a knee injury. And the state of health of reserve fullback Charley Tolar is also an uncertainty.

So is quarterback, although the Oilers administration is optimistic that Don Trull can handle the job. Trull ran the club in exhibition games against the Kansas City Chiefs and the Oakland Raiders. The Oilers lost to the Chiefs, 24-9 and to the Raiders, 24-7.

Trying Too Hard

"The biggest thing with Trull is he hasn't relaxed," said Jim McLemore of the Oilers front office. "He's been too tight, been pressing too hard, been trying to do too good. He looked good in the last half against Oakland."

Should Trull and flanker Lawrence Elkins develop into the same formidable scoring combination they were in 1963 at Baylor, the Oilers may well finish higher than last place, as they did in 1966. Elkins is the No. 1 flanker on the squad.

Behind Elkins at flanker lurks Ode Burrell, a one-time half-back who has been transplanted. Burrell might return to his former environment if the experiment doesn't work.

"Whether he can make the transition, we don't know yet," Breen said. "But we know he can play halfback."

Although Barnes was an attractive rookie, the Oilers are still fairly well stocked with linebackers. They have Ronnie Caveness, Danny Brabham and George Webster, a rookie and their No. 1 draft choice, at those positions. Webster, for the time being, anyway, appears to have supplanted veteran Olean Underwood, who has dropped to No. 2 left linebacker.

Shifting Necessary

Cutsinger's loss will be troublesome, and Lemm has had to do some shifting to try to offset it. Pat Holmes has moved from tackle to end and George Rice, a reserve with one year of experience, has filled the vacant tackle slot.

Offensive halfback could stand a bit more speed than Sid Blanks or Woodie Campbell can offer. Houston has three healthy fullbacks—Hoyle Granger, Roy Hopkins and Eddie Edwards.

The Oilers' offensive lineup is expected to include Charles Frazier at split end, Bob Poole at tight end, Walt Suggs and Glen Ray Hines at tackles, Bob Talamini and Sonny Bishop at guards, Bobby Maples at center, Trull at quarterback, Blanks at halfback, Elkins at flanker and Granger at fullback.

On defense will probably be Holmes and Don Floyd at ends, Rice and Ernie Ladd at tackles, Webster, Caveness and Brabham at linebackers, Miller Farr and W. K. Hicks at cornerbacks and Tommy Jancik and Jim Norton at safety.

Singer Blanks Braves; Cubs, Cardinals Lose

By SANDY PRISANT
UPI Sports Writer

The Dodgers can't afford to wait 1,000 years for the next Sandy Koufax.

Eight months is long enough. Walt Alston himself had said when Koufax retired that, "A player like Sandy comes along once in 1,000 years," and catcher John Roseboro had been in complete agreement.

But by Monday night, a young right-hander named Bill Singer had just about convinced Roseboro that help was coming 999 years early.

"He's got a faster fast ball than Sandy and more velocity on his slider," was the excited claim of the usually staid catcher after Singer had struck out 12 Atlanta batters and allowed only four hits as the Dodgers whipped Atlanta 2-0. Singer kept his record at a spotless 6-0 since the All-Star break.

Fast Ball Counts

Roseboro did say Koufax' curve had a sharper break than the 23-year-old Singer's does. But it was the Koufax fast ball that struck out a record 317 batters last season. It was also the Koufax fast ball on an October day in 1965, that carried Los Angeles to victory in the final game of the World Series over power-packed Minnesota. If the man who caught the great lefthander through most of his career says his fast ball was not as quick as Singer's, the National League is in trouble.

Singer allowed only five Atlanta batters to hit the ball out of the infield as the eighth-place Dodgers completed a four-game sweep of the Braves.

Elsewhere in the National League, Houston bombed league-leading St. Louis 11-4, Pittsburgh clipped Chicago 5-1 and Cincinnati stopped San Francisco 2-0.

Singer, who retired 16 batters in a row during one stretch Monday night, got all the offensive support he needed when the Dodgers scored a first inning run on a single, a double and a double play ball. Los Angeles added another tally in the third on Jim Lefebvre's run-scoring triple.

Houston put together a 13-hit attack highlighted by rookie Norm Miller's three doubles. Miller, batting just .216, doubled in one run during the Astros' three-run first inning and wound up batting in two more runs and scoring two more as ninth-place Houston managed a split of the four-game series with the first-place Cards.

White Sox Gain Tie

By United Press International

The Chicago White Sox have regained a portion of the most exclusive property in the American League.

They annexed a valuable hunk of first place, held solely by the Minnesota Twins lately, by whipping the once-omnipotent New York Yankees, 4-3, in Comiskey Park Monday night.

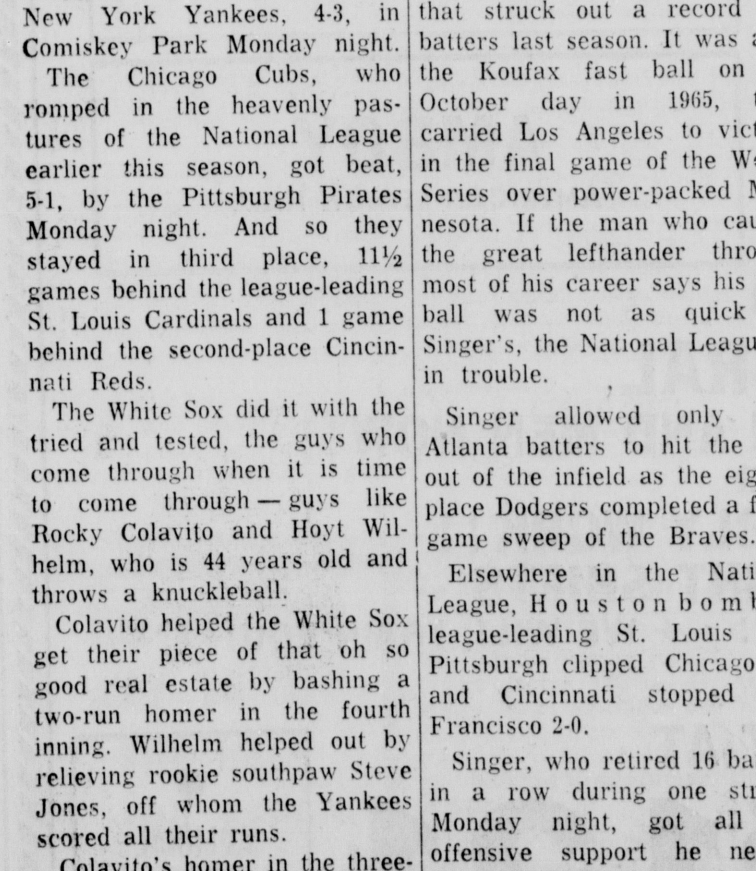

The Chicago Cubs, who romped in the heavenly pastures of the National League earlier this season, got beat, 5-1, by the Pittsburgh Pirates Monday night. And so they stayed in third place, 11 1/2 games behind the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals and 1 game behind the second-place Cincinnati Reds.

The White Sox did it with the tried and tested, the guys who come through when it is time to come through—guys like Rocky Colavito and Hoyt Wilhelm, who is 44 years old and throws a knuckleball.

Colavito helped the White Sox get their piece of that oh so good real estate by bashing a two-run homer in the fourth inning. Wilhelm helped out by relieving rookie southpaw Steve Jones, off whom the Yankees scored all their runs.

Colavito's homer in the three-run fourth was his eighth of the season and his third since he came to the White Sox from the Cleveland Indians.

The White Sox, who now have won four of their last five and have beaten the Yankees eight out of 11 this season, meet the Yankees in a doubleheader to-night. In their attempt to wrest from Minnesota their portion of the land of opportunity, they will pitch Joe Horlen (14-3) and Wilbur Wood (3-2). Fritz Peterson (3-13) and Steve Barber (9-13) will carry the Yankees' hopes.

Winning Run
Thomas Compher, above, is pictured as he crossed home plate after being forced home by a bases-loaded walk issued by all-star pitcher Jeff Musser. Moments after this picture was taken, winning pitcher Andrew Scudder drove in three more runs with a triple for a 10-6 final score. Compher's run broke a final inning 6-6 deadlock for Love's Floor Covering.

Farmers Market Day Termed Huge Success

STEWART — Steward's first Day, was an overwhelming success. Much credit is due general chairman, Emmett Barnes, parade chairman, Rev. Dale Luther, and members of the Village and park board.

A large crowd viewed the parade of over 40 units. The Luther League of the Calvary Lutheran Church, rural Lee, took first prize for their float on the theme "The Sower."

The TOPS Club took second prize for their float on "Food for Fatties."

Macklin Bros. received honorable mention on their float "The Town Rascals."

The MYF of the Steward Methodist Church had an outstanding float on the theme "The Bread of Life."

In the bicycle division, Eva Supancic received first prize; Tommy Kenney, second; David Kersten, third; and Sara Naylor, honorable mention.

Parade judges were Mrs. Martin Ravnaas, Mrs. C. C. Macklin, and Leo Bauby.

A drawing held Saturday evening resulted in the following: 1st prize, Carl Brown, Steward, quarter of beef; 2nd Gary Walker, Chana, garbage disposal; 3rd F. N. Hewitt, Stewart, radio.

Other activities of the day included a horseshow in the C. C. Macklin pasture under the direction of Marvin Burkhardt, Chana, a ball game between the boys of the local little league and the Lee boys with the latter taking honors 14-11.

A smorgasbord served at the school in the evening; a street dance with Gary Palmer and his band, DeKalb, playing.

Concession stands, the Farmers Market and handicraft booth furnished attractions for all ages.

A register at the handicraft booth recorded names from 32 towns and cities and five states.

Hamilton To Appear at Ogle Fair

GEORGE HAMILTON

OREGON—George Hamilton IV, a country music singer, will appear at the Country Western Show Sept. 2, at the Ogle County Fair.

Hamilton is a star on the Grand Ole Opry at Nashville, Tenn., and has been a recording artist for RCA Victor with hits such as "Abilene" and "Fort Worth, Dallas or Houston." He has also appeared in two motion pictures, "Hootenanny Heart" and "Second Fiddle to a Steel Guitar."

Appearing with Hamilton will be other country music stars including Phyllis Ann, often called the "Princess of Country Music."

Named for Chief

Illinois has a state park near Rock Island which was named for the famous Indian chief Black Hawk, who fought a battle here to save the land for his people.

Polo Schools Set Opening On Aug. 29

POLO—Polo unit district schools will open Aug. 28, with a teachers' workshop. The opening schedule for the remainder of this week is as follows:

Aug. 29—Pupils report for book lists, assignments, bus schedules, and pay book rent (only elementary students will pay book rent on this day).

Aug. 30—Busses and cafeteria in operation with busses at 3 o'clock.

Aug. 31 and Sept. 1—Full days of school for everyone.

Sept. 4—Labor day. No school. Parents of pupils in grades and kindergarten through eighth who are new in the Polo School District, are asked to come to the junior high to register pupils if they have not already done so. Please bring report cards and health cards if available.

Parents who have moved to a different address or section of the school district are asked to call in their new address and telephone number to the junior high. This applies especially to pupils riding busses.

Health physicals should also be completed for kindergarten, fifth grade, and freshman students.

Textbook rental for students has been established at the following rates for all rented books:

Cool it!

Beat the Heat with Mexsana. Enjoy the big difference! Mexsana keeps you comfortably dry, itchy-free; it whisks away heat rash and skin odors as no talc can. Why? A unique blend of medications in velvety starch.

It's medically superior!

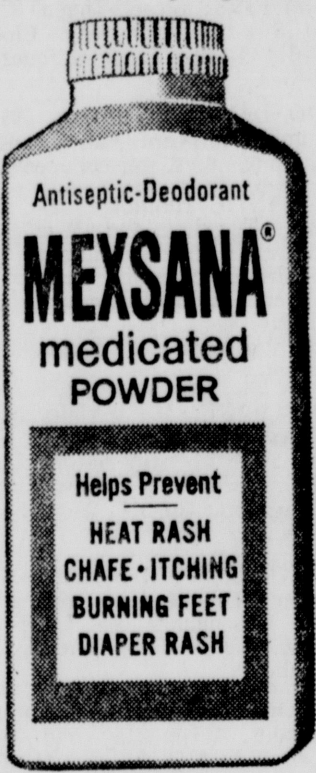

Deodorizes. More than a talc "cover-up"; feels velvety, kills many odor-producing germs. You know you're fresh with Mexsana.

Destroys Cause of much itching discomfort... absorbs perspiration to keep you comfortably dry on hottest days. Use after every bath.

Cools Feet: Heat, soreness, shoe-chafe—all are eased away by Mexsana's clinging starch. Checks athlete's foot itching. Dries toes.

Stops Diaper Rash—and that's the real test of absorbency and antiseptic action! Soft as a caress on baby's tender skin.

Get the most! For savings buy big size. Another quality product from Plough, Inc.

Typical Statements from Parents of Newspaperboys

I am very happy that my son, Ben, has a newspaper route.

I am sure that there is no president of any large company in the United States who takes his business more seriously. His intent to render a good service, make a profit and save some money, to me is consistent with the American philosophy.

Ben is following the footsteps of his dad who had a paper route as a boy, and I am certainly glad that he has joined the thousands of youngsters throughout the United States who are businessmen and render a distinct service to their community.

Want to learn some interesting facts about America's booming new investment frontier of FRANCHISING?

- Before you invest anywhere from $1,000 to $50,000 in a franchised business of your own, it will pay you to learn of the many advantages—and possible pitfalls—that can develop along the franchise route to financial independence.
- Learn how every range of investor—on either a full or parttime basis—can substantially increase current earnings with a marked degree of surety.
- Learn why it actually costs less to go into a franchised business of your own than it would if you were to "go it alone" . . . and learn why your chances for financial success are overwhelmingly greater the franchise way.

You Are Cordially Invited to Attend a FREE FRANCHISE FORUM

8:00 P.M. Thurs., Aug. 24
Nachusa House, Dixon, Illinois

As a continuing service in the public interest, Franchises International is conducting these forums in key cities from coast to coast. The forum purpose is to inform interested businessmen as to how matured and highly ethical methods have gained franchising the important major marketing role it holds in America's economy.

• There's no charge nor obligation for coming, of course. However, admission will be by reservation only. To secure as many admissions as you wish,
